

Trial Period Checklist

A trial period is an important final step in making sure you've found the right fit for your family. Below are some topics you should cover when you assess a nanny's performance during their trial period.

Trial Period Checklist:

- Child Engagement: Do they show patience and initiate play?
- Crisis Management: How do they handle fussiness, minor spills, changes in plan, or a tantrum?
- Phone Habits: Do they keep personal phone use strictly out of sight during active care hours?
- Proactive Initiative: Do they clean up or prepare next steps without being asked?
- Child Response: How does your child respond to them? Even a baby can give clues and respond positively to an adult.
- Conflict Resolution: How do they approach any initial confusion or conflict? Engaging meaningfully on minor issues in the beginning will show how larger issues will be handled in the future.
